Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the past week-end the writer was present at the "Days of 49" celebration in Marysville, and to say merely that the affair was a tremendous sucess would be grossly understating the facts. Those Marysville folks did it up brown and served it with all the trimmings.

Nineteen-thirty witnessed the first "Days of '49" celebration in Marysville, a town which is the hub around which the hell-roaring forty-niners revolved in the good old days. Last year a small group of business men decided that something should be done to commemorate the gold rush period, and in a very few days had organized a truly remarkable affair.

This year the thing was approached by a larger group who were if anything more enthusiastic than they were a year ago. Much time and careful thought was given to the enterprise, with the result that there was produced a spectacle entirely early Californian. Store fronts were camoflauged to represent early-day emporiums, display windows contained magnificent displays of antique weapons, pictures depicting scenes of the days when men were men, and other bits of Californiana.

Imbued with the spirit of the gold rush days, citizens ransacked attics and appeared in the regalia of hardy miners, gamblers, vaqueros, and what-not, while the ladies dressed as did their grandmothers 80 years ago. Whiskers there were in any quantity, and red shirts in profusion. The "El Dorado," "saloon and gambling hall," fixed up with all the trimmings, drew huge crowds day and night.

A motorless parade was the highlight of the celebration. Ancient, solid-wheeled freight wagons, snaked out of a canyon where they had rested for years, were drawn by teams of 14 oxen each. Horsemen, stage coaches, costumes—all served to turn back the pages of history to the days when life was exciting—and cheap—in California mining camps.

It is, we believe, the intention of "Mary's Villians" to stage the celebration every year. If they do, they will have made a mistake common enough in other communities. In our opinion, anything really worth while retains its glamor best when not overdone. Marysville's "gold rush party" should not be offered oftener than every three years at the most. Such a program would permit the retention of an appeal which otherwise might quickly be lost, never to be regained.

We of the Santa Clara valley have had considerable experience with annual celebrations, and while they make good advertising we entertain little doubt that they would be more appreciated if they didn't come so often. People will always attend—but they lose enthusiasm after a few years, while anything that

KIWANIANS HEAR A. WARREN WEST AT LUNCH TODAY

Alaska, the land of golden oppotunity, was most interestingl presented at Kiwanis luncheon today by A. Warren West, renowned adventure writer and traveler.

He gave several very graphic stories of real experiences of his trip to Alaska. His story of the discovery of gold and the big rush in '97 and '98 was so vivid that a new thrill was given his appreciative auditors. Mr. West showed two exceptionally fine bear pelts as trophies of his hunt.

Lou Shelley, as chairman, did more Houdini stuff to the bewilderment of all.

Miss Thelma Brooks, fiesta queen attendant, Mrs. J. C. Brooks, her mother, and Dr. F. R. Anderson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, were honor guests of the club.

FIG TREE INN IS SCENE OF GAY PARTY TUESDAY

One of the charming affairs of the past week was a bridge luncheon at the Fig Tree Inn Tuesday afternoon when the Mesdames F. V. Perrott, G. S. Robson, and R. A. Shearer entertained a large octerie of their friends.

The beautifully appointed luncheon was served at tables seating eight guests. Lovely bouquets were effectively placed about the rooms, and smaller ones in delicate shades graced each table.

Those bidden to enjoy the afternoon were Mesdames I. R. Abbott, J. C. Ainsley, F. R. Anderson, R. G. Archibald, Hattie Baugh, M. J. Bohnett, W. C. Bohnett, N. O. Best, D. H. Cramer, D. W. Clark, J. E. Fanning, G. E. Farley, C. B Field, W. F. Grattan, R. H. Hyde, E. R. Kennedy, W. N. Lloyd, W. I. Merrill, H. W. Morton, D. L. Page, H. H. Person, Leigh Saunders, H. C. Smith, H. M. Shadle, L. C. Shank, W. H. Stray, C. T. Tanner, H. B. Whitehouse, C. H. Whitman, and the Misses Anna Hagelin, Helen Kalas and Mary Rodeck, all of Campbell.

Other guests were Mrs. Easton Kent, San Francisco; Mrs. T. A. Story, Stanford; Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy and Mrs. E. V. Strayer, Saratoga; Mrs. L. T. Lennox, Los Gatos; Mrs. Warren Shelley, Ben Lomond; Mrs. George Stray, Bakersfield; Mesdames Mark Rifenbark, R. J. Blauer, F. R. Husted, R. T. Green, E. R. Booker, L. S. Lantry, J. C. Cuneo, E. S. Shaw, Elroy Shank, H. A. Vetch, Bertha Barron, Allen Rudolph, R. C. Schaefer, C. W. Wolff and the Misses aKthleen Pye and Lela Gillan, all of San Jose.

V. Hook, who for some time has been carrying mail for the post office, has received his appointment from the government as mail messenger, taking the place of the late John Neff.

Blimp Will Lead Fiesta Parade Saturday

San Jose, May 12—The airship Volunteer, 134 feet long, 40 feet in diameter, piloted by Verner L. Smith will lead the Santa Clara County Fiesta de las Rosas grand floral parade, Frank C. Mitchell, chairman, has announced. The dirigible will carry its pilot and four passengers. Because of the general interest in the Sunnyvale navy dirigible base, the airship has been brought to San Jose. It will carry passengers on May 16, fiesta parade day, and on May 17 for the American Legion air meet. It will hover over the parede, dropping rose petals, from 2 p. m., when the parade starts, to its finish at 5 o'clock.

Fred Niles, New Arrival Here, Died Last Wednesday

Wednesday morning at 1:30 o'clock Fred Niles, 49, recent arrival in Campbell, passed away at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr .and Mrs. J. Bondon, on Harrison avenue. A native of Breckenridge county, Kentucky, Mr. Niles had been in poor health for some time. Death followed a stroke Tuesday evening.

Funeral services were held at Dos Palos, former home of the deceased. Surviving besides his sister are two brothers, Frank and H. P. Niles, both of Dos Palos.

RECORD CROWD WITNESSES HIGH SCHOOL OPERETTA

The annual high school operetta presented Friday evening, May 8, scored a hit with the audience which packed the grammar school auditorium.

Act one was started with an overture by the high school orchestra, and the opening strains of the operetta. Betty Lou, the leading character, was played by Gladys Nelson, who took her part very well indeed. Mrs. Anthony Pendleton, Betty's step-mother, was played by Muriel Crothers. An excellent portrayal was given by her in that character.

Supporting were Mark Pasquin, Geneva DiFiore, Lois Bachman, Muriel Wilson, Perley Payne, Clyde Hughes, Dan Furtado, Art Devitt, Lulu Murdock and Louis Mammini.

A chorus of 12 voices did much to make the production a success.

Dunlap & Smily Sponsor Ford Show Here Mon., July 6

P. H. Dunlap of the firm of Dunlap & Smily, Ford dealers, announces that they have secured the traveling Ford show for Campbell. This show, similar to the one held in San Jose early in the spring, includes a "cut-away" chasis which reveals the principles of Ford construction, a talking picture which takes the audience on a trip thru the Ford plant, etc. In addition there will be a number of the latest model Ford cars on display.

The show, according to Mr. Dunlap, has been very well attended wherever shown, and a record crowd is expected to be on hand Monday, July 6, when the show appears in Campbell.

ACTIVE WEEK AT UNION SCHOOL

Last week was a busy time at the Union district school, with many interesting events crowding the five days.

Tuesday evening an informal dinner was given by the teachers of the school for all those interested in the welfare and progress of that institution. Superintendent and Mrs. Joseph Hancock were the guests of honor. Mr. Hancock spoke on the value of teaching social subjects, and on the fostering of good fellowship in the community. The St. Martin's Glee club entertained with several numbers and readings were given by students of the higher grades.

Thursday a health examination was given by Dr. Edith Sappington. Twenty-two children were examined and only a few minor defects were discovered. Dr. Sappington was assisted by the school nurse, Miss Edna Knapp and Mrs. Ray Tonkin. Mrs. R. L. Howes gave them luncheon at her home after the examination.

Alumni Dinner And Dance Is Slated For Sat.

The alumni of the local high school will gather in Campbell for their third annual reunion next Saturday evening. At 7:30 a dinner will be served in the grammar school cafeteria and from 9 until 12 the old grads and the new will celebrate at a dance in the high school annex. The hall is decorated for the occasion with school colors—red and white.

Dolly Stevens' "Jazzettes" will furnish the music and have promised a few numbers for the old timers.

The affair is being arranged by an alumni council composed of nine members. Due to the fact that acurate addresses of graduates are hard to get hold of, the president, Dan Yeager, requests members not receiving a regular notice, and desirous of attending, to mail or phone their reservations at once.

All aiumnus and members of the faculty are invited, and may reserve any number of places for the dinner. The '31 class is also invited, and each may bring a guest.

Entertainment at the hop will include numbers by Steve Merrill and probably Helen Kalas. Other alumni have agreed to contribute.

WISCONSIN PICNIC SLATED FOR MAY 25

Roy K. Wheeler, president, announces that plans have been perfected for a basket picnic o fthe Wisconsin society at Memorial park, Los aGtos, Saturday, May 25, and that any former residents of the Badger State will be welcome.

A. H. Rhoads, secretary of the society, says that coffee will be ready for the picnicers at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. M. J. Farrington and Mrs. Edith Murison are arranging a program.

HARRY D. EVANS IS ONLY OFFICER, ASSERTS C. OF C.

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Monday evening, May 11, with Dr. F. R. Anderson wielding the gavel. At this meeting an unusual amount of work was accomplished, a large number of members being present.

Included in the session's business was a statement designed to correct rumors that Harry D. Evans is not the only officer sponsored by the organization. Evans, as a matter of fact, is the only officer recognized by the Chamber of Commerce, having been hired by that group April 21.

Plans to install 400-c.p. lamps on ornamental brackets along Campbell avenue were reviewed and met with approval. The increase in light district taxes will be increased but little, according to Dr. Anderson.

Plans for advertising the town were discussed, and also the need of adequate road signs directing the way to Campbell. An illuminated electric sign for the main entrance to town will be discussed at an early meeting.

At the suggestion of the president, the subject of the float for the fiesta parade this year will be "Washington Crossing the Delaware," which will serve to announce next year's Old Settlers day celebrationo, which will fall on the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington. High school students are at work on the float, financial assistance being advanced by the Chamber of Commerce.

The following letter, received from the Chamber of Commerce of the State of California is of great interest to all good citizens, and is herewith published for the benefit of all:

". . . . . the year 1931 promises to be one of extreme forest fire hazard.

"Due to a lack of precipitation, our forests will be extremely dry, and unless we make ourselves doubly fire-conscious this year, we may expect an increase in the percentage of man-caused fires.

It is the belief of our organization that an educational campaign at this time will be of material benefit in reducing fires this summer.

"The State Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the United States Forest Service and the State Division of Forestry in attempting to meet this very serious situation."

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD GUESTS AT PARTY MONDAY

Mrs. Floy Morris and Miss Winnie Grizzle entertained the members of the Methodist Sunday school board Monday evening, May 11, at the W. C. Grizle home on Campbell avenue.

A brief business session was followed by delicious refreshments, served by the hostesses.

International Chamber of Commerce Debates Causes and Cures of Economic Depression—Financiers Scored by M. A. Traylor.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

Silas H. Strawn

WHAT ails this old world? What are the causes of the ailments? What can be done about it? These were the questions asked and in various ways answered by scores of the leading men in finance and industry from 43 nations, assembled in Washington for the sessions of the International Chamber of Commerce. Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, formally opened the meeting and then Georges Theunis, former Belgian premier and retiring president of the international body, took the chair.

The first address was the speech of President Hoover welcoming the delegates, and the Chief Executive seized the occasion to take another hard wallop at war and armaments. He said he believed the certain way to restore prosperity was to lighten the burden of national defense which is now costing the nations more than $5,000,000,000 a year and keeping nearly 5,000,000 men actively under arms. He urged the business men of the five continents to mobilize their influence upon their respective governments to join in the reduction of armament at the international conference to be held next year under the auspices of the League of Nations.

"Of all proposals for the economic rehabilitation of the world," said Mr. Hoover, "I know of none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful result of that conference."

M. Theunis submitted a long and exhaustive report on world conditions, in the course of which he said: "I am personally convinced that the commercial policy and the customs tariff in force in most of the countries of the world constitute one of the fundamental causes of our actual economic troubles. A liberal customs policy might be expected to lead to better business conditions."

Melvin A. Traylor, prominent Chicago banker, electrified his hearers by a scorching attack on commercial leaders, and government executives of America. "Ambition, cupidity and greed have dictated policies, and trouble has been the result," he declared. "It is a tragedy when in a world of plenty there should be so much poverty and when, in a nation that boasts of its riches, 5,000,000 or more persons willing to work should be unable to find employment. It is a challenge to the world and especially to American business and political leadership."

Mr. Traylor's attack began with a criticism of manufacturers who took advantage of technological and management improvements to swell their output to a point far in excess of the possibilities of consumption. And he was equally severe in his characterization of the methods of bankers and of traders on the floors of the stock and grain exchanges. He urged that floor trading and small margin accounts be forbidden.

MR. STRAWN when he addressed the delegates to the international meeting invited them all to Chicago for the "jubilee" celebration of May 10 to 20, and he received assurance that many of them would attend. The midwest metropolis had made most elaborate preparations for this affair, the program including festivals in the brightly decorated "loop" district, big parades, dedication of the replica of Fort Dearborn, first of the Century of Progress exposition buildings, and, to wind up with, the elaborate war game of the air force of the army.

Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt

MOTHERS and children and their welfare were the topics of especial consideration during the week throughout the nation. To promote better maternity care for the women of the United States was the object of a big meeting in the Park Lane hotel, New York city, the arrangements for which were in the charge of Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt. Prominent physicians and health officers as well as many well-known women were among the attendants, the latter including Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. John Sloane, Mrs. August Belmont, Mrs. E. Marshall Field, Mrs. Jeremiah Milband, Mrs. Samuel Schiffer, Mrs. Robert L. Gerry, Mrs. John R. Drexel, Miss Mabel Choate, and Miss Frances Perkins, New York state industrial commissioner.

PULITZER prize awards for literary excellence in 1930 have been announced, and there are few if any surprises in the list. The main awards are: Best novel, Mrs. Margaret Ayer Barnes, for "Years of Grace"; best book dealing with the history of the United States, Prof. Bernadotte E. Schmitt of University of Chicago, for "The Coming of the War"; best play, Susan Glaspell, for "Alison's House"; best American biography, Henry James, for "Charles W. Eliot"; best volume of verse, Robert Frost, for "Collected Poems"; best piece of reportorial work, A. B. Macdonald of the Kansas City Star; best example of foreign correspondence, H. R. Knickerbocker of the Philadelphia Ledger; best editorial, C. S. Ryckman of the Fremont (Neb.) Tribune; best cartoon, Edmund Duffy of the Baltimore Sun. A gold medal was awarded the Constitution of Atlanta, Ga., for meritorious public service in exposing municipal graft. Several young men were given traveling scholarships in journalism.

A. B. Fall

HIS conviction on the charge of accepting a bribe having been upheld by the District of Columbia court of appeals, Albert B. Fall says he has decided not to carry the case to the Supreme court of the United States. The former secretary of the interior, it seems, must serve the one year term in prison to which he was sentenced, and pay a fine of $100,000, unless President Hoover intervenes with a pardon—which is the hope of his friends.

Fall, interviewed at his ranch in New Mexico, said his attitude toward a Presidential pardon was rather passive. "I am an old man," he said. "I am not guilty of the crime of which was accused. I had fought until I am worn out and considerations for my family impell me to carry the fight no further."

He said he had no money with which to pay the fine and explained he had lost ownership of the ranch on which he lives when a mortgage was foreclosed several years ago.

HERE is something else for certain active opponents of the dry law to ponder upon. The District of Columbia Court of Appeals, in an opinion which takes away from Robert de Francis of Washington the citizenship granted him in 1927, holds that a violator of the prohibition act cannot be attached to the principles of the Constitution and is not a person of good moral character.

The decision reversed the action of the District of Columbia Supreme court which had denied a petition by United States Attorney Leo A. Rover seeking to set aside Francis' naturalization.

PREVAILING depression has not affected the Boy Scouts of America. The national council celebrated at a two-day meeting in Memphis the close of the twenty-first year of the organization and announced it had been the best and most eventful of all. President Walter W. Head of Chicago presided at all the sessions and on the last day Mortimer Schiff, New York banker, was elected president for 1931.

Lord Hampton

At a banquet concluding the first day's session Dan Beard, veteran Indian fighter and chief commissioner of Boy Scouts, presented the silver buffalo, highest honor in the gift of the organization, to an English peer and six Americans. Those honored were Lord Hampton, chief commissioner of British Boy Scouts; Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor of The American Boy magazine; Lewis Gawtry, New York banker; George W. Olmstead, Pennsylvania public utilities executive; Victor F. Ridder, New York newspaper publisher; Robert P. Sniffen, Yonkers, N. Y., merchandising expert, and Mell R. Wilkinson, Atlanta (Ga.) merchant and manufacturer. Citations praised them for distinguished service to scouting.

Lord Hampton, long prominent in English Boy Scout work, served with distinction in the World war. He was awarded the Silver Cross for life saving in 1919 and the following year received the award of the Silver Wolf, the British Scout decoration for distinguished service to boys.

FULL recognition has been extended by the United States to the dual kingdom of Hedjaz and Nejd and its dependencies on the Arabian peninsula. After years of warfare, the entire kingdom is now ruled by Ibn Saud. It embraces an area of about 700,000 square miles with a population of less than 5,000,000.

FRENCH opposition to the proposed Austro-German customs accord seems to be effective at least to the extent of keeping the little entente out of line. The foreign ministers of that entente have stated that all questions concerning the accord must had the countries of the little entente firmly united in their attitude, and what that attitude will be is indicated by the fact that the Rumanian government has informed Berlin that it does not wish to negotiate with Germany at this time. M. Briand is being warmly supported by Czechoslovakia.

GEORGE FISHER BAKER of New York, reputed to be the richest American banker and the third richest man in the country, who died of pneumonia at the age of ninety-one, was buried Tuesday in Tuxedo Park, N. Y., where he resided. Many persons prominent in finance and in life generally were present at the funeral.

Because Mr. Baker died in a period of price depression, the United States and the state of New York will receive in inheritance taxes far less of his amassed wealth than would have been the case had he passed away two years ago. His estate is estimated at something like $500,000,000.

Chiang Kai-shek

CHINA has virtually abrogated the extraterritoriality treaties, with foreign powers, the abrogation to take effect January 1 next. Chinese jurisdiction over legal cases involving foreigners resident in China is to be established, but special courts for such cases will be created in certain areas, including Shanghai, Tientsin, Mukden and Canton. The mandate to this effect was promulgated by President Chiang Kai-shek's government after negotiations with Sir Miles Lampson, British minister, for abolition of extraterritoriality had broken down. Foreign consuls in China feared that Communists would find in the action excuse for attacks on foreigners in the interior, and the number of protecting warships at various ports was increased.

President Chiang Kai-shek is having his troubles with rebels in Canton and with some members of his own Nationalist party. The former are led by Chen Chi-tang, and both they and the conservative Nationalists declare that Chiang must resign the presidency, asserting that he is trying to make himself a dictator. The provinces of Kwangtung and Kwansgsi declared their independence. The disaffected ones charge that Finance Minister Soong has amassed riches and has made no official report in six years. Marshal Chang of Manchuria is still supporting President Chiang.

PRESIDENT DOUMERGUE opened France's international colonial exposition at Vincennes park on Tuesday, and it is expected that the big show will attract throngs of visitors until it closes at the end of October. In addition to all French colonies, the United States, Italy, Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, Holland and Portugal are represented. Native life of Indo-China, equatorial Africa, and Madagascar has been reproduced even to the extent of importing 3,000 natives.

The United States is represented by a copy of Washington's Mount Vernon home, and by pavilions for Hawaiian, Porto Rican, Alaska and Philippine exhibits.

PRESIDENT CARMONA of Portugal is comparatively happy now, for the rather serious revolt in Madeira island has been suppressed by the government forces under command of Magalheas Correia, minister of marine. The federal troops bombarded the rebels at Funchal by land, sea and air until they gave up the fight, the leaders taking refuge in the British legation. The casualties were not excessive, but the normal life of Madeira had been greatly disturbed for weeks and the government in Lisbon was really worried for a time.

Yoshihara

JAPAN'S foremost aviator, young Seiji Yoshihara, started his solo flight from Tokyo to Washington, D. C., under the auspices of the Tokyo newspaper Hochi Shimbun. His route for the long and perilous journey was laid out to the northern islands of Japan, thence along the Kuriles to Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, with two intermediate landings; from there across the Bering sea and along the Aleutian islands and the Alaskan shore, with stops, to Seward, and then down to Vancouver and Seattle. At the latter city he will change his sea pontoons for landing gear and proceed to San Francisco, after which he hopes to fly to the National Capital to deliver to President Hoover a message of good will from Japan. Yoshihara's plane is a light all-metal Junkers with open cockpit and no radio.

The huge German seaplane DO-X, which started for South America months ago and was laid up by a fire, is on its way again and at last accounts had reached Bolama, Portuguese Guinea.

MORE than once Mustapha Kemal Pasha has refused to let the Turks make him President for life, but they are doing it in effect anyway. The other day they elected him for his third term of four years, that action being taken by the national assembly in extraordinary session at Angora, and the vote was unanimous. Ismet Pasha and the cabinet resigned pro forma and the premier and other ministers were promptly reappointed.

appears only once or twice in a decade is eagerly anticipated.

Besides putting on an interesting and amusing party, Marysville deserves credit for still another fine and unusual quality: business is probably no better there than it is elsewhere, but during our visit not once did we hear the word "depression." The town has more than its quota of unemployed, yet there is little crime; an "odd jobs" and clean up-paint up campaign, put over by the local newspaper, created work for many men who otherwise would have remained unemployed all winter. Yes, there's a depression on up there, but nobody mentions it; there is a bit of money in town, and they keep it circulating. A mighy fine town . . . . . .

If baby could be particular

...She'd have her mother cook with ELECTRICITY

"RIGHT NOW when I need the most care and attention, mother should spend almost all her time with me.

"But just when I want her, she has to be in the kitchen. If she would only let an electric range cook her meals and daddy's automatically, she wouldn't need to stay in the kitchen—she could be with me."

It's easy to have perfect cooking without the usual bother of watching in the kitchen—when you cook with electricity. And that's because of the time and temperature controls. You simply place the food in the oven, say at one o'clock, and set the controls. At three o'clock the meal starts cooking. At six, the electricity turns off. The insulated oven keeps the food hot until you are ready to serve it. Think how nice this will be when company is coming for dinner on a day when you want to be free during the whole afternoon.

Then too, cooking with electricity is economical. The cost for current averages 1c a meal per person. Moreover, cooking elements are faster today—as fast as you'd want them.

A small down payment places the electric range of your choice in your kitchen, ready to use. Come into our office or a dealer's store and see the beautiful new electric ranges.

KIWANIS NOTES

Miami—William O. Harris was elected unanimously by acclamation president of Kiwanis International for 1931-32 at the 15th annual convention here last week. Since 1929 he has been executive vice president of the National Thrift Corporation of America. Mrs. Harris is 39 years old, married and has three children.

A charter member of the San Bernardino Kiwanis club in 1921, he has within ten years seen much active service in Kiwanis. In 1924 he was president of his club, and was a lieutenant governor of the California-Nevada district during 1925-26. He has served on numerous district committees, and two International committees, the special committee on conventiono finance, and chairman of the International committee on attendance. A conservative step by San Jose's oldest and largest building and loan association

As a result of changing economic conditions throughout the nation, the directors of the San Jose Pacific Building and Loan Association —oldest and largest building and loan association in the Santa Clara Valley—have unanimously adopted a lower rate of interest on savings. This decision is in accord with the conservative policies which the San Jose Pacific has followed since its founding in 1885.

Abundant idle money has brought about a general reduction of interest rates on sound investments. Today the building and loan association which seeks the most desirable security for its funds must be prepared to earn lower loan rates from its borrowers. Sound business judgment recommends, therefore, that it also pay a lower rate to its savers.

Effective June 1, 1931, all new accounts opened with this institution will earn 5 per cent interest from the date of investment.

Careful investors are urged to consider the significance of this move. They will find it in line with steps taken by the majority of the nation's conservative financial institutions. It is dictated by the same sound business practices that for 46 years have enabled the San Jose Pacific to maintain an unbroken record in the payment of both principal and interest.

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.
